Backstage competition winners anounced

A while back now we asked you to submit ideas to rethink how to present TV and Radio listings using the TV anytime data and other relevant feeds.

The response was magnificent and thanks again to everyone who took the time and effort to submit entries. But on to the bit you really want:

The winners of the first Backstage competition are...

What we learned

Spend a bit of time upfront designing your database.

Imports are hard and take a long, long, long time to get right

Data is always bad, make no assumptions

Focus on what the user wants
